DETAILED ACTION

Election/ Restriction

Claims 1- 69 are pending in this application.

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I/ Group I. Claims 1-33 drawn to a method for performing human factor process failure analysis and effects analysis for a process classified in class 714 subclass 727

II/ Group II. Claims 34-51, drawn to a dynamic computer readable media classified in class 360 subclass 131

III/ Group III. Claims 52-69, drawn to a computer system classified in class 700 subclass 90.

2. In the case applicant elect group I, those inventions are further required to be restricted under 35 U.S.C. 121 as the following:

A/ Species I. Claims 1-18 and as best as can be understood is described in claim 1 is directed to a method for performing human factor process failure with all the technical features as recited in claim 1.

B/ Species II Claims 19-33 and as best as can be understood is described in claim 19 is directed to a method for performing human factor process failure with all the technical features as recited in claim 19.

Art Unit: 2818

3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and III are related as process and Apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be practice by another materially different apparatus or by hand (2) that the Apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In the instant case unpatentability of the Group I invention would not necessarily imply unpatentability of the Group III invention, since the method of the group I invention could be practice by hand.

4. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions III and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the computer system can be patentable with a novel processor. The subcombination has separate utility such as: the claimed storage media can be used in other applications such as music recording system.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, the fields of search are not co-existent. Therefore, separate examinations would be required and restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. For species election requirement applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

8. Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

9. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently filed petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(h).
